STOP LONG ANIMAL TRANSPORTS

Support a Maximum Duration of 8 Hours for Animal Transports

Every year million of animals are transported under unacceptable conditions on European highways. The most important issue is the transports' duration. Current EU legislation allows for animals to be transported for several days. This has to be changed. Live animals for slaughter must never be transported for more than eight hours. Our goal is to collect one million signatures, something EU politicians will not be able to ignore.

With my signature, I call for a restriction of 8 hours for animal transports in the member states of the European Union.
